FROM NURSERY TO NURSING HOME, LEV PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS
“LULLABIES FROM THE HEART WITH ROBERT ROBINSON” AVAILABLE
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8

Kickstarter Campaign to Raise Support for this Passion Project Launched Wednesday, September 5

Minneapolis, Minn. – Lev Productions is proud to present “Lullabies from the Heart with Robert Robinson” for release on Tuesday, October 8. The EP will be available on iTunes and Amazon. With ten thoughtfully-selected songs not typically used as lullabies, this passion project seeks to create a meditative, relaxed vibe for listeners at all stages of life.

“Lullabies from the Heart” features two original songs as well as eight soul-soothing songs originally sung by the likes of Eric Clapton, Sarah Mclachlan and Cyndi Lauper, among others. The full track list is available below.

With the generosity of a team of local Twin Cities artists giving of their time and talent to bring this project to life, Lev Productions launched a Kickstarter campaign on September 5 to ensure that these artists would be paid for their efforts.

The funds raised will be not only be used to pay these amazing artists but for production, marketing and promotional expenses that go into producing a CD. For those interested in joining the journey for spreading love and comfort through music, they can go to <http://www.kickstarter.com/projects/122238286/lullabies-from-the-heart-with-robert-robinson>.

Rafael Forbush, owner of Lev Productions, is the sole visionary behind this amazing collaboration that works to redefine the word “lullaby” to include songs with a universal message of love and comfort. Bringing together some of the top local artists in Minnesota, Rafael knew the only voice for this project was Robert Robinson, with whom he worked on Robert’s national tours.

“Lullabies From the Heart’ is an inspiring collection of songs of peace, love and healing,” says Robert Robinson, “I have decided to reach far beyond my gospel roots and select music that really speaks to my spirit and soothes my soul.”

The next addition to the team was award winning producer, Scott “Scooter” Nelson, who knew exactly how to maximize Robert’s incredible vocals, having worked with him on three projects. Scooter is an Emmy® Award winning producer who has also won two Telly Awards’, five Parents Choice Gold Awards and five Minnesota Music Awards. He is also a part of The Tex Pistols.

The team of local artist also includes Parents Choice Award winning composer Sean Turner (“Lullabies for Children and Adults”), renowned saxophonist Kenni Holman (Prince’s “The HornHeads”), background vocalist Aimee Lee (Aimée Lee and the Snazzy Band) and sound engineer Chris Tianan (Green River Productions).

About Robert Robinson

Robert Robinson is known as "God's canary" (Star Tribune). He possesses the ability to sing any song and yet remain true to his vision. In 2012, Robert launched his latest CD project, "A Celebration of Praise" and kicked off a series of national performances. The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel described Robert as "a volcanic talent". His performance was depicted as "glorious" by the Salt Lake City Deseret News, and the Minneapolis Star Tribune proclaimed Robert to be "a soaring presence." Perhaps more importantly, Minnesota's Insight News distinguished Robert as a "beloved institution," a nod to both his service to the community and his sterling life's work.
